PERSONAL BACKGROUND

As an enthusiast for new technologies, I always enjoy being involved in any project or idea related with them that also helps me grow as a professional and human being.

Few years ago I got inspired by a tech-talk about JavaScript and the huge amount of possibilities this language gives in both frontend and backend environments. Then I decided to check by myself a few online courses and I finally ended enrolling to the Ironhack Web Development bootcamp, involving Full-Stack technologies based in Javascript.

Now, I am actively working as React Native Engineer enjoying and learning a lot about at my job.
